

For Your Garden

The

Poodle Mulch

Progress Report

July 24, 2021

Sponsored by Screaming Skulls. Sounds like a biker gang!

Issue LVI

After defeating some purple worms and mind flayers, a slave and his slave wife and son emerged from the bushes. Oddly enough, they didn't seem to want help and warned the party to go. 'Bout that time, a local lord showed up and demanded that the party get away from his slaves.

Merle did some glaring, but not much else as the party let the slaves go and avoided a conflict. They moved on to Lo Vray and did some purchasing and selling. The usual. Lykos decided to drag the party to Mubla Bight while some magic items were being worked on in Lo Vray. He wanted to sell Rivenor, who was becoming increasingly unhappy at not being used in battle.

In Mubla Bight, the party was attacked while having dinner in the Yawning Portal. Some thieves tried to grapple with them and hold them there. Meanwhile, their little assassin buddy Zalph dropped a demi-lich skull from above and into the party's midst. Zalph beat feat after that.

After the battle, the party looted everything and took off to find somewhere else to sleep.